

WITH GRATITUDE

DEAR ALLOSOURCE COMMUNITY,

I'm not flying during the pandemic, but instead driving, which has given me plenty of time to think about the amazing things happening at AlloSource every day during this incredibly challenging year.

WE CONTINUED TO FULLY HONOR TISSUE DONORS.

The work you partner with us to accomplish every day is sacred. We get someone's loved one as a gift of donated tissue and are entrusted to maximize that gift through the allografts we create. With all the supply chain challenges we have faced this year, being fully supplied was no small feat and we couldn't have done our sacred work without your help.

WE WORKED IN A NEW REALITY OF SAFETY.

Our team continued to operate at normal capacity, taking seriously all physical distancing, PPE wearing, personal health awareness and monitoring measures. Employees who could, worked from home to manage the risk of spreading COVID-19. We looked out for one another, protecting our health and work responsibilities while staying fully operational.

WE HELPED HEAL PATIENTS.

We provided allograft products to help surgeons heal their patients and we prepared for the forthcoming volume of elective surgeries we anticipate in the new year. Through your support we are well-equipped to meet this surge in demand.

I could go on and on with everything that's happened this year. I am in awe of the work we do together and find it hard to fully express my admiration and gratitude for all of your support during these challenging times. Saying thank you may be the simplest way. Thank you for your continued support of AlloSource because without you, we wouldn't be able to fulfill our mission.

Best wishes for a wonderful and safe holiday season! We look forward to all we will accomplish together in the new year.

Sincerely,

THOMAS A. CYCYOTA
President & CEO

MISSION

Inspired by the gift of donation from our communities, AlloSource responsibly provides innovative cellular and tissue allografts to advance patient healing

